

British Safety Council Qualification Withdrawal Policy

Qualification withdrawal

All regulated qualifications have operational start, operational end and certification end dates. The operational end date is the date by which learners must be registered for a qualification and the certification end is the date by which learners must claim their certificates.

In most cases the British Safety Council requests an extension to operational end dates and certification end dates from the regulators. In some cases, a qualification may be redeveloped to ensure content is current and a replacement may be introduced or a qualification may be withdrawn without a replacement being made available.

Whichever of the above applies, the British Safety Council will keep centres informed of the future of a qualification that is currently being offered.

When qualifications are updated, the British Safety Council will make arrangements for the transfer of learners to any revised version.

In the event of a qualification being withdrawn, the British Safety Council will give sufficient notice to centres to ensure that learners' interests are adequately protected.
