

David Snowball
Director for Regulation
Health and Safety Executive

David Snowball was born in Belfast and joined the Health and Safety Executive in 1984 as a factory inspector after doing PhD research in geography at Leeds University. He also holds an MBA from the Open University.

He has worked for HSE in Cardiff, Hull, London, Sheffield, Leeds, Edinburgh and Liverpool.

He is currently the HSE Director for Regulation and responsible for ensuring that HSE regulatory practice is modern, effective and relevant.

