

Keith Scott

Director of Resident Safety
London Borough of
Camden

Currently Keith is Director of Resident Safety at the London Borough of Camden.

Widely respected as a visionary and legacy building leader, he is passionate about creating the environment for sustainable success. With a capacity to constantly think forwards and plan for continuous improvement, he stimulates those around him to work to create stronger teams who can impact on the wider community to improve safety leadership. Keith has been successful in leadership and cultural change, strategy development with regard to health & safety, security and business continuity.

Keith has Masters Degrees in Health and Safety Management & Security and Risk Management from Leicester University. His relevant past experience includes holding the positions of Group Head of Health, Safety & Security at Almarai (KSA), Chairman of the International Institute for Risk and Safety Management, Head of Safety at Royal Mail, Head of Health and Safety at the Ministry of Justice, Chairman of the Accident Prevention Scientific Committee of the International Commission on Occupational Health. He is also a Chartered Fellow of the Institution of Occupational Safety and Health, A Fellow of the International Institute of Risk and Safety Management and an Honorary Fellow of the Institute of Industrial Accident Investigators.

Keith Scott

Director of Resident Safety
London Borough of Camden