

James Murray
Managing Director
Vitality

James has worked in healthcare for over 20 years, originally as a clinical pharmacist, in the pharmacy, dental and medical sectors, and for the last 10 years in commercial and leadership roles. He has a number of postgraduate master's degrees in clinical pharmacy, healthcare law and an MBA.

At Vitality, he manages Healthy Workplace, a workforce solution aiming to make employees healthier, happier and more productive. It uses the expertise of both Vitality Health and Nuffield Health to help people make better and healthier choices.
