Pension scheme

The British Safety Council operates an automatic enrolment pension scheme. Subject to you meeting the eligibility requirements of the scheme for auto-enrolment, you will be automatically enrolled in the pension scheme three months after commencing your employment.

Contributions are based on basic pay as follows:

Employee	Employer
3%	5%

Holiday entitlement

All employees are entitled to 25 days per annum. Three/four days must be saved to cover the break between Christmas and New Year when the Office will be closed. If you work less than full time, these days will be reduced pro rata.

For every 3 years completed service an additional day's holiday will be added to the holiday entitlement, up to 30 days per annum.

Life assurance

This is in place from day one of your employment and provides a death in service benefit of four times your basic salary. Expression of wish forms, which indicate the beneficiary, should be kept up to date and will be retained in your personnel file.

Buying and selling of annual leave

Employees have the option to buy or sell some of their holiday entitlement. Employees working on a full-time basis can buy or sell a maximum of 5 days per year, providing their total entitlement does not exceed 30 days or fall below 20 days. Part time staff eligibility calculated on a pro-rata basis.

Sick Pay

- During the probationary period, employees are eligible for 3 days paid sick leave
- From six months to one-year service – up to 7 days full pay and 7 days half pay.
- From one year to three years' service – 30 days full pay and 30 days half pay.
- From three years' service – 90 days full pay and 90 days half pay.

Maternity/Paternity pay

Employees are entitled to eighteen weeks full maternity pay, which will be given to those with 21 months continuous service at the expected week of childbirth (12 months continuous service in addition to the 9 months pregnancy term). Staff under a year's service will receive 6 weeks full pay and the remainder as statutory maternity pay.

Those on paternity leave are entitled to two weeks full pay.

Charity day

BSC will afford staff the opportunity to take a paid day off to work for a charity of their choice. All requests to be submitted in writing along with a confirmation letter from the given charity. At least 6 weeks' advanced notice required. This is subject to approval by line managers.

Healthy breakfast & lunch

Free, healthy breakfast is provided for all staff before 9am.

Subsidised lunch is available from the Learning Zone, subject to availability.

Hot drinks and fruits are free from F5, the refreshment zone.

This is available after successful completion of the probationary period.

Training to maintain professional accreditations of qualifications required for the role will be arranged or reimbursed.

Subscriptions for professional memberships

This is available after successful completion of the six-month probationary period.

Subscriptions to professional bodies for membership or affiliation will be reimbursed via the expenses procedure if it is relevant to the job role and the organisation.

Bank holidays

All employees are entitled to receive eight bank/public holidays per year.

If you work less than full-time, these days will be reduced pro rata.

Social events

The social committee arranges various events throughout the year. Typical events including the summer BBQ and Christmas party.

Referral incentive

Employees will receive a financial reward if they introduce a new employee to the business.

Permanent employees:

- £350 on the start of the new employee
- £350 after successful completion of the six-month probationary period.

Associate employee:

- £350 after the associate has worked regularly for the business for six months.

Eligibility excludes the executive/senior management team.
